

A pixelated, black and white version of the Twitter bird logo. The bird is shown in profile, facing right, with its wings raised as if in flight. The image is composed of large, visible square pixels, giving it a retro, low-resolution appearance. The bird's body is dark, while its wings and tail show some lighter shading to indicate form. The background is plain white.

A pixelated, black and white graphic of a stylized anchor or cross shape. The shape is composed of a central vertical bar and a horizontal bar intersecting it. The vertical bar has a small hook at the bottom. The entire shape is rendered in a low-resolution, pixelated style with varying shades of gray and black.

A large, stylized, pixelated black letter 'X' on a white background. The letter is composed of many small squares, giving it a blocky, digital appearance. It is centered and occupies most of the frame.
