

Thick vertical line shows experimental measurement from Abraham et al., while thin lines show 95% confidence interval for agreement with experiment, factoring in both experimental uncertainties (0.2 kcal/mol) and computed uncertainties (less than 0.1 kcal/mol).